1. The Flak Kaserne on Luetzenerstrasse, Leipzig-Schoenau (N 52/E 21), quartered an estimated 2,500 troops on 21 December 1950. Soldiers observed wore red-bordered black epaulets with tank insignia, and black epaulets without branch-of-service insignia. A platoon of soldiers wearing red-bordered black epaulets was engaged in record firing with rifles and machine guns at the drill field directly west of the installation. Recruits practicing close combat and firing with light machine guns, rifles and submachine guns were seen at the drill field beside the orchard. Motor vehicles [REDACTED] were seen in the billeting area.

2. The Flak Kaserne on Torgauerstrasse, Leipzig-Heiterblick, was occupied by about 1,500 troops wearing red-bordered black epaulets, some of them with tank insignia. Many of the troops were recruits. [REDACTED] identified one tank unit with T-43 tanks and one AT artillery unit with 47-mm AT guns. Student drivers at the drill field were trained on T-43 tanks. At the same time another group of soldiers practiced with 47-mm AT guns, aiming at the moving tanks. Motor vehicles [REDACTED] were seen. (1)
